

Palm Warbler (Setophaga palmarum), Silverlake Park, Tucson, Pima County

This Palm Warbler was discovered by Mark Stevenson on 8 October 2020, and photographed by Pat Goltz on 8 October 2020 and by Gary Rosenberg on 10 October 2020.

Palm Warbler is a rare to casual transient in the state, but this fall has been exceptional for the species in Arizona, with no fewer than ten records!

10 October 2020, photo by Gary Rosenberg

08 October 2020, photo by Pat Goltz

All photos are copyrighted© by photographer

Submitted on 31 October 2020