

Northern Shrike (Lanius excubitor), Black Creek, Hunter's Point, Apache County

This Northern Shrike was photographed by Felipe Guerrero on 10 November 2020.

Northern Shrike is a rare but probably regular winter visitor to Northern Arizona, although their occurrence is likely irregular, and its status in the state is complicated by the little coverage northern and northeastern Arizona has by birders during the winter.

10 November 2020, photo by Felipe Guerrero

All photos are copyrighted© by photographer

Submitted on 17 December 2020